Universal Symbolism in Storytelling

Saturday, January 20, 2018 from 3:00 – 5:00 pm
(rescheduled from January 13th to January 20th)
Concord Hall, 1407 Chapala Street, Santa Barbara
Presenter: Miluka Rivera-Matlovsky

To initiate the study of the 2018 theme, Exploring Universal Ideas Expressed in Cultural Arts, the use of symbols represented in stories from around the world will be explored. Storytelling is an ancient means of teaching and shaping cultural values. Stories offer ideas about the potential of human beings and the moral aims of human societies. The symbols in a story are often universal in scope and meaning. Thus, understanding the universality in symbols is a way of understanding world culture.
