
STUDY CIRCLE

Visions of America in an Age of Globalization

Meets Tuesday Evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 pm
1407 Chapala Street, Santa Barbara

With some references to historic developments in the 20th century, the study circle will explore current ideas and experiments that point to future constructive developments of American values and social principles in a world impacted by globalization. During October, the focus will be on "The Fundamental Revolution." For more information and readings, please visit the IWC website: <http://www.worldculture.org>

OCTOBER 2019

October 1 The Fundamental Revolution: from Elitism to Equality

For discussion at the first meeting, we will take up Chapter 12 in Parapolitics by Raghavan Iyer called "The Fundamental Revolution: From Elitism to Equality". Key questions to be addressed are: Is a revolution that is deeper than politics? What kind of transformation might emerge through new vocabulary and fresh visions of American values and goals? How might individuals develop an identity that is globally inclusive? Discussion will be encouraged.

October 8 Check the website for topic and readings, to be posted soon

October 15 Check the website for topic and readings, to be posted soon

October 22 Check the website for topic and readings, to be posted soon

October 29 Check the website for topic and readings, to be posted soon