Expanding a Universal Vision of Liberty, Justice, Social Responsibility and Community

Core concepts and ethical practices that could be used in the development of a new Universal Vision for humanity's welfare will be explored. The revolutionary vision that inspired the Republic of Conscience in 18th century America will be matched with current global trends to expand liberty, justice, social responsibility and community around the world. The contributions of leaders dedicated to a universal vision for improving the lives and opportunities for mankind will be presented.

Dr. Carolyn Dorrance and Danson Kiplagat are retired educators as well as founding members of the Institute of World Culture. Dr. Dorrance served for many years as president of the Institute's board.
